An e-portfolio is a “purposeful aggregation of digital items – ideas, evidence, reflections, feedback etc... in a contextually rich and meaningful array of digital objects. Within the portfolio a learner’s experiences are recorded alongside their reflections on their experiences. They may be formative or summative forms of assessment or a means of demonstrating lifelong learning and continuing professional development.

A global online medical education community

A global online medical education community